Language Is the

Freshmen students Deb Helbert and Kathy Garman discuss pictures of scenes from TREASURE ISLAND. This classic was studied by all freshmen English classes.

Comprehensive studies of grammar and literature were delved into by all English classes.

English 9 literature revolved around contemporary works with a dash of old favorites and some classics. Grammar study emphasized the various types of sentence structure.

English 10 stressed noun clauses and use of verbals. To develop the student's ability to visualize as they read was the aim of the literature study.

Tracing the development of all forms of writing in America was the content of the English II literature book. The grammar study included a review of all important parts of grammar.

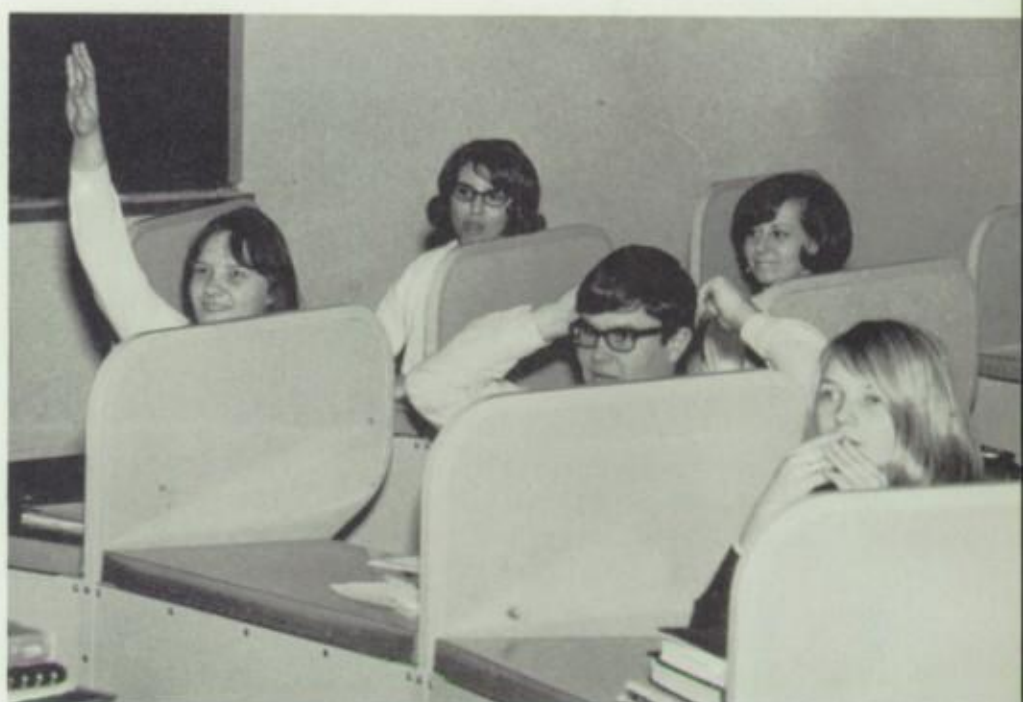

English 12 literature traced the development of the English language and writings in England from 55 B.C. to the present day. Grammar study was a complete review of past years.

The aim of speech was to improve the student's ability to construct, organize, and deliver speeches before an audience; to aid in attaining poise before an audience; to help students overcome speech handicaps and to generally improve the student's speech.

Communications class was developed this year at H.H.S. and the instructor was Mr. Caldwell. The discussion of numerous topics, issues, and news was its purpose. Each student revealed his thoughts concerning certain issues and they were then discussed.

French I was an introduction to the rudiments of the language including fundamental grammatical principles, pronunciation, and a working vocabulary. French II was a continuation of French I; with reading ability stressed.

The Latin I lessons consisted of Latin reading; a list of new words needed for the reading; explanations of forms and grammar; Latin and English sentences for translation. The core of each lesson was reading in Latin.

To make our ideas and ideals known, we must speak. These speech students will learn how to better express themselves through their speech studies.

Latin II reviewed the inflections, vocabulary, and grammatical principles learned in the first year. This course broadened the student's knowledge of vocabulary.

Communications Tongue

Mr. Caldwell's communications class is filled with twenty ideas, behaviors, and personalities. The looks on these students' faces reveal this fact.

General Business was the introductory basic business course which provided the information and understanding needed by every pupil in becoming a wiser consumer of business goods and services.

The BOE course included: Bookkeeping provided general information needed by all students in developing an understanding of the fundamental principles of business in order that they may keep individual records of income and expenditures and supporting files of business papers, prepare tax reports, and keep social and civic records.

Typing taught the student to operate the typewriter efficiently, how to punctuate sentences, hyphenate words. By the end of the course he has the ability to set up personal and business letters attractively, address envelopes, type manuscripts, and make tabulations.

Typing II found the student becoming increasingly proficient in the activities outlined for Typing I.

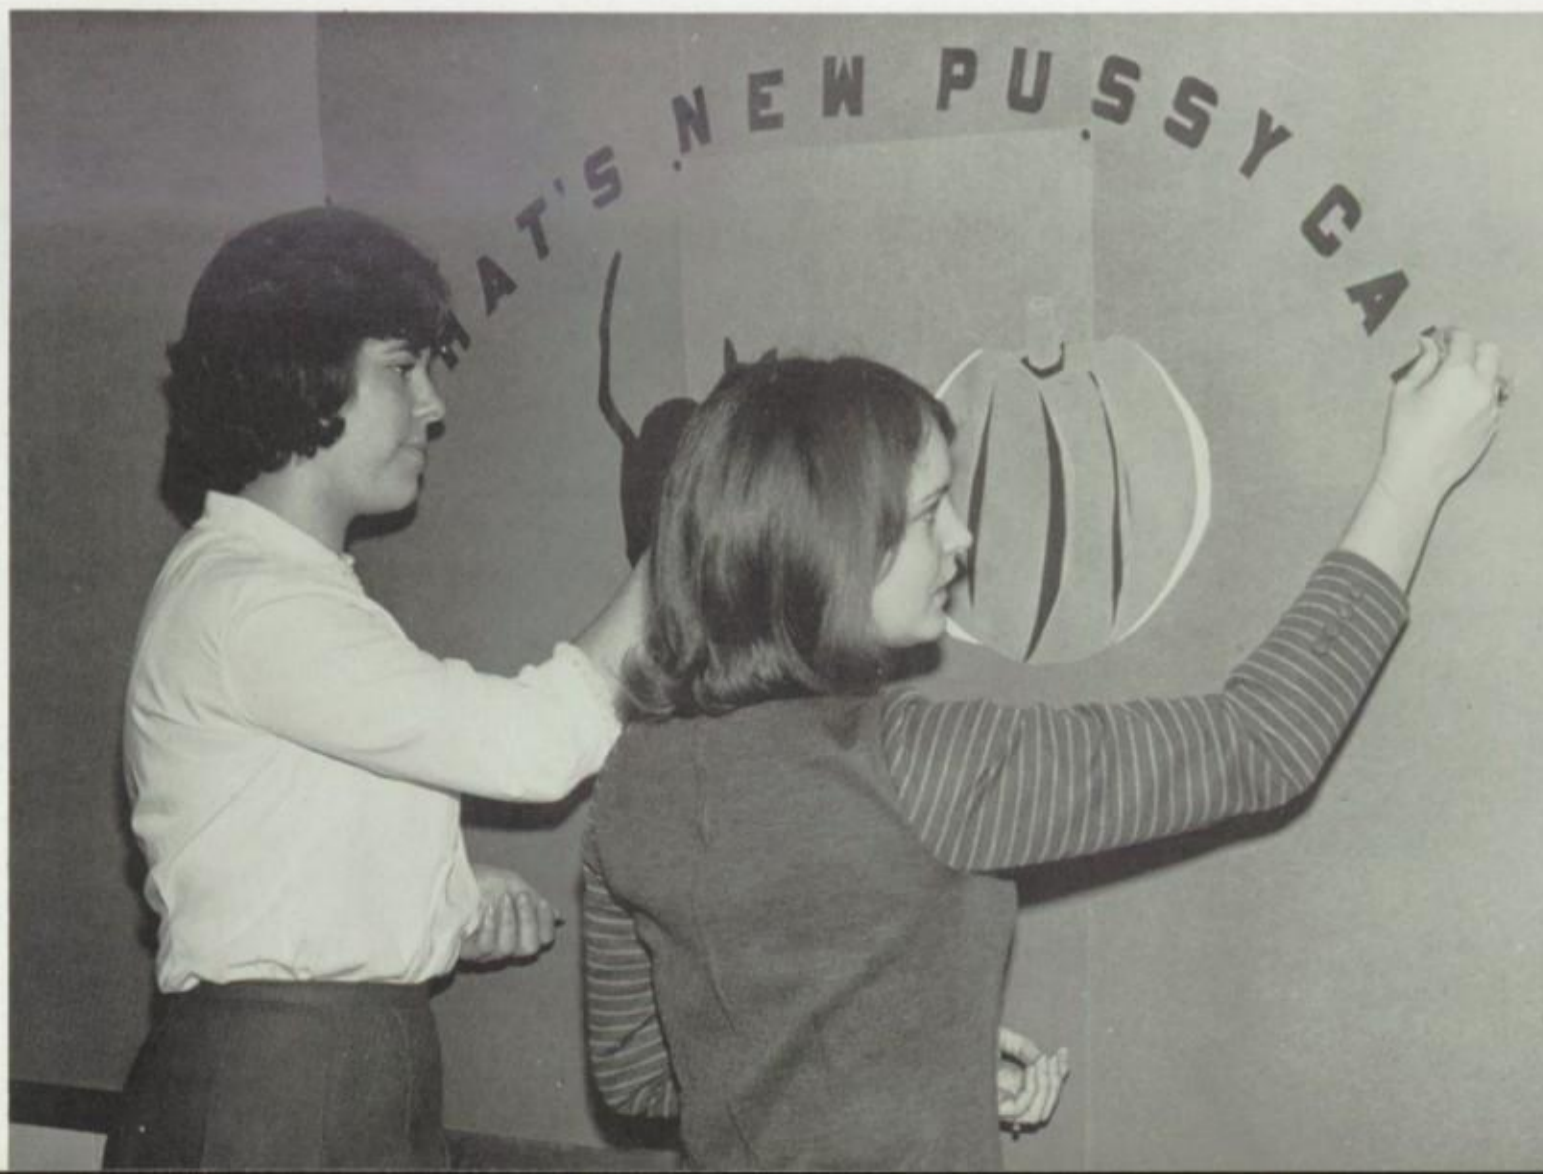

Shorthand developed the ability to read and write shorthand meaningfully and fluently.

All members of the BOE class take a course in typing.

Business Activities Useful in Everyday Life

Norma Gongwer and Lalah Taylor decorate a bulletin board as a special project in their BOE class.

Social Studies Is a Tour Around the World

Defense attorneys Roger McBride and Kathy Easterday work to free their client, Rick Loudon, of a murder charge. This mock trial was a special project of Mr. Cox's senior government class.

World History surveyed the civilizations of the world from pre-historic through Greek and Roman history, the Middle Ages and down through modern times. The social, political, economic and educational progress of these times were stressed in this course.

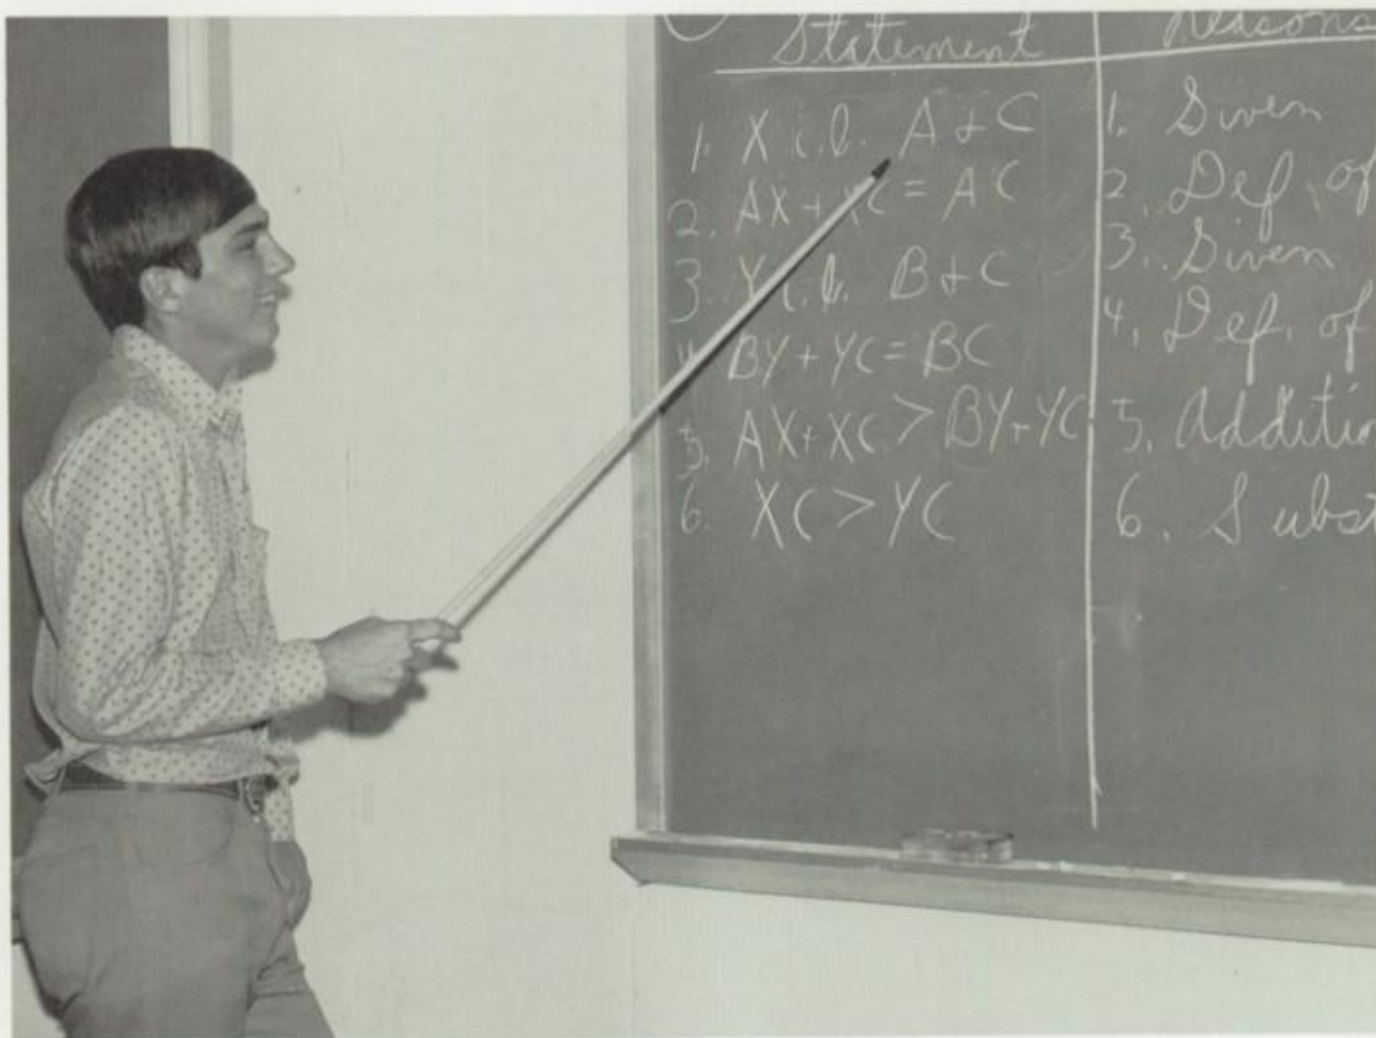

A study of American History covered the background to colonization in America to the most modern developments in contemporary history. Much emphasis was placed on understanding the reasons for historic events as well as historic facts.

Senior Government was the study of our Federal, State and Local Governments. This course is designed to acquaint the student with all phases of government including political parties, elections, finances, and other related subjects.

Senior social studies classes studied the running of American government and democracy. Mr. Valentine is trying to relate these ideas to his senior students.

Math Is the Science of Numbers

Jeff Baker explains a geometry problem to the class.

General Mathematics is designed to give an all-over picture of mathematics. This course is beneficial in every day math problems.

Algebra is the study of unknowns, that is, letters representing the numbers. Algebra is the first step into the path of advanced mathematics.

In the geometry class you learn how to associate lines, angles, triangles with other lines, angles and triangles. Each problem is proven in a step by step method.

Algebra II is the advanced extension of Algebra I.

Advanced mathematics is an over-all study of math. It includes solid geometry, trigonometry and it puts algebra, geometry, and arithmetic to use. It is progressive in all of the sciences and is the basis for college mathematics.

General math students are eager to learn about the confusing world of numbers.

Chemistry class was a combination of brightly colored chemicals, a few scientific failures, and a dash of Mr. Anderson's humor.

Scientists Develop Good Observation Habits

General science, biology, chemistry, and physics were the sciences engaged in by scientific Hillsdale High School students.

In general science matter, energy, the universe, and plants and animals were touched upon. Stress was placed upon the application of scientific facts in which reasoning played a major role. Other objectives were to develop the ability to solve problems, to develop the ability to distinguish between facts and theory, to introduce various scientific fields, to acquaint pupils with scientific methods and the contribution of science and scientists, and to help the student acquire skills and powers of observation.

Biology taught the students the facts about different types of life and life functions in addition to giving the students a better understanding of the physical make-up of life.

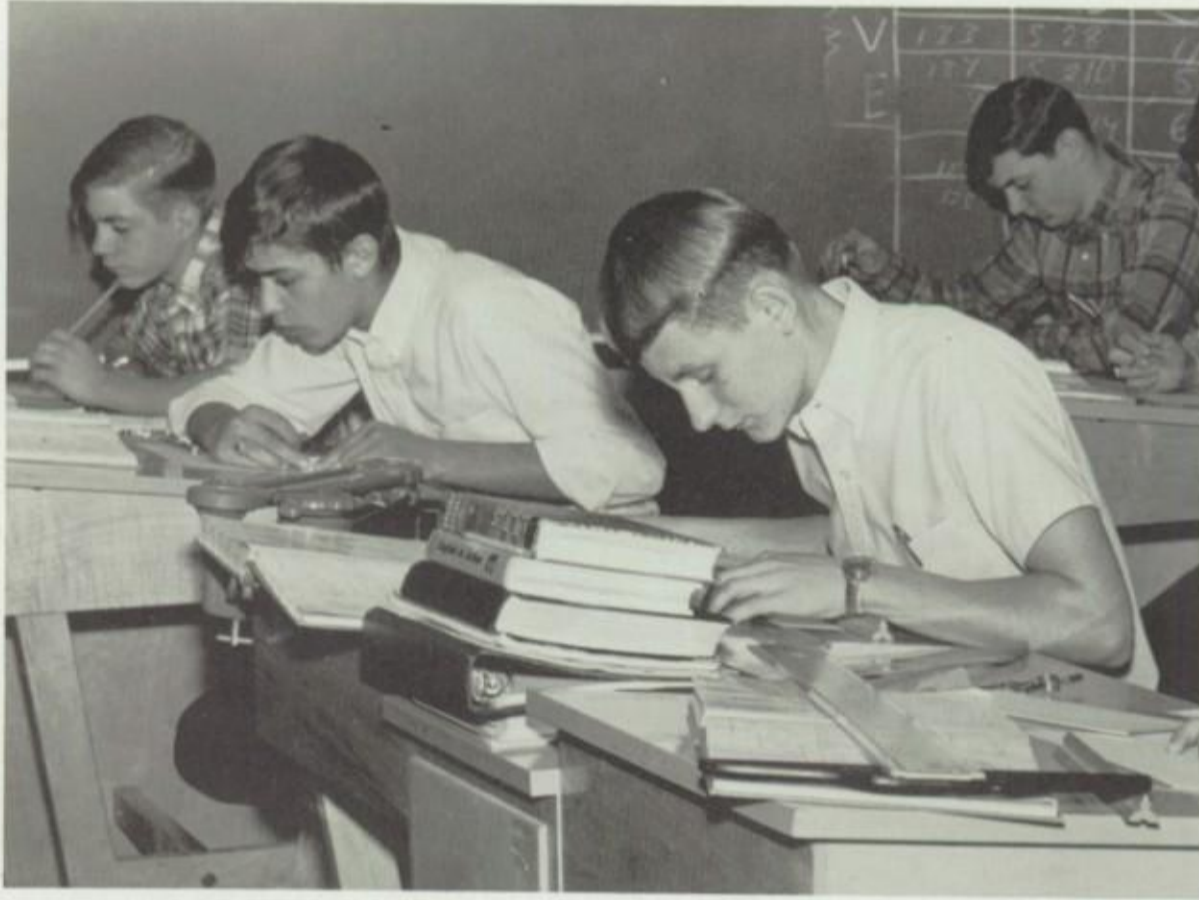

Chemistry constituted a study of fundamental laws and of common elements and their compounds. This course develops an appreciation for chemistry in everyday life along with desirable laboratory techniques.

Physics is designed to give the student a working knowledge of mechanics, heat, electricity, sound, and light. The correlation of mathematical principles and physical laws and the development of a student's manipulatory and communicative skills by laboratory experience are major parts of the course's of study.

Determining blood types was one of the biology classes projects. Lloy Funk appears to be a brave lad, while Rick Gannon doesn't seem nearly as enthused.

Vocational Courses

Develop Useful Skills

Butler. ROW THREE, Stan Moore, Larry Zehner, Marvin Leibolt, Dale Garn, George Browne, Ron Martin, Ned Jacobs.

Initiated into the Hillsdale curriculum was the Occupational Work Experience program. The major objective of the OWE program is job placement combined with school work. Nineteen juniors and seniors spent their mornings in the classroom. The students spent their afternoons on a job with pay, working at a minimum of thirty-three hours per week. Mr. Weaver is the OWE coordinator.

Vocational Home Economics is a four year program including individual and group activities in the classrooms, in F.H.A. and in home experiences. The program is planned for a sequence of learnings as pupils grow and develop.

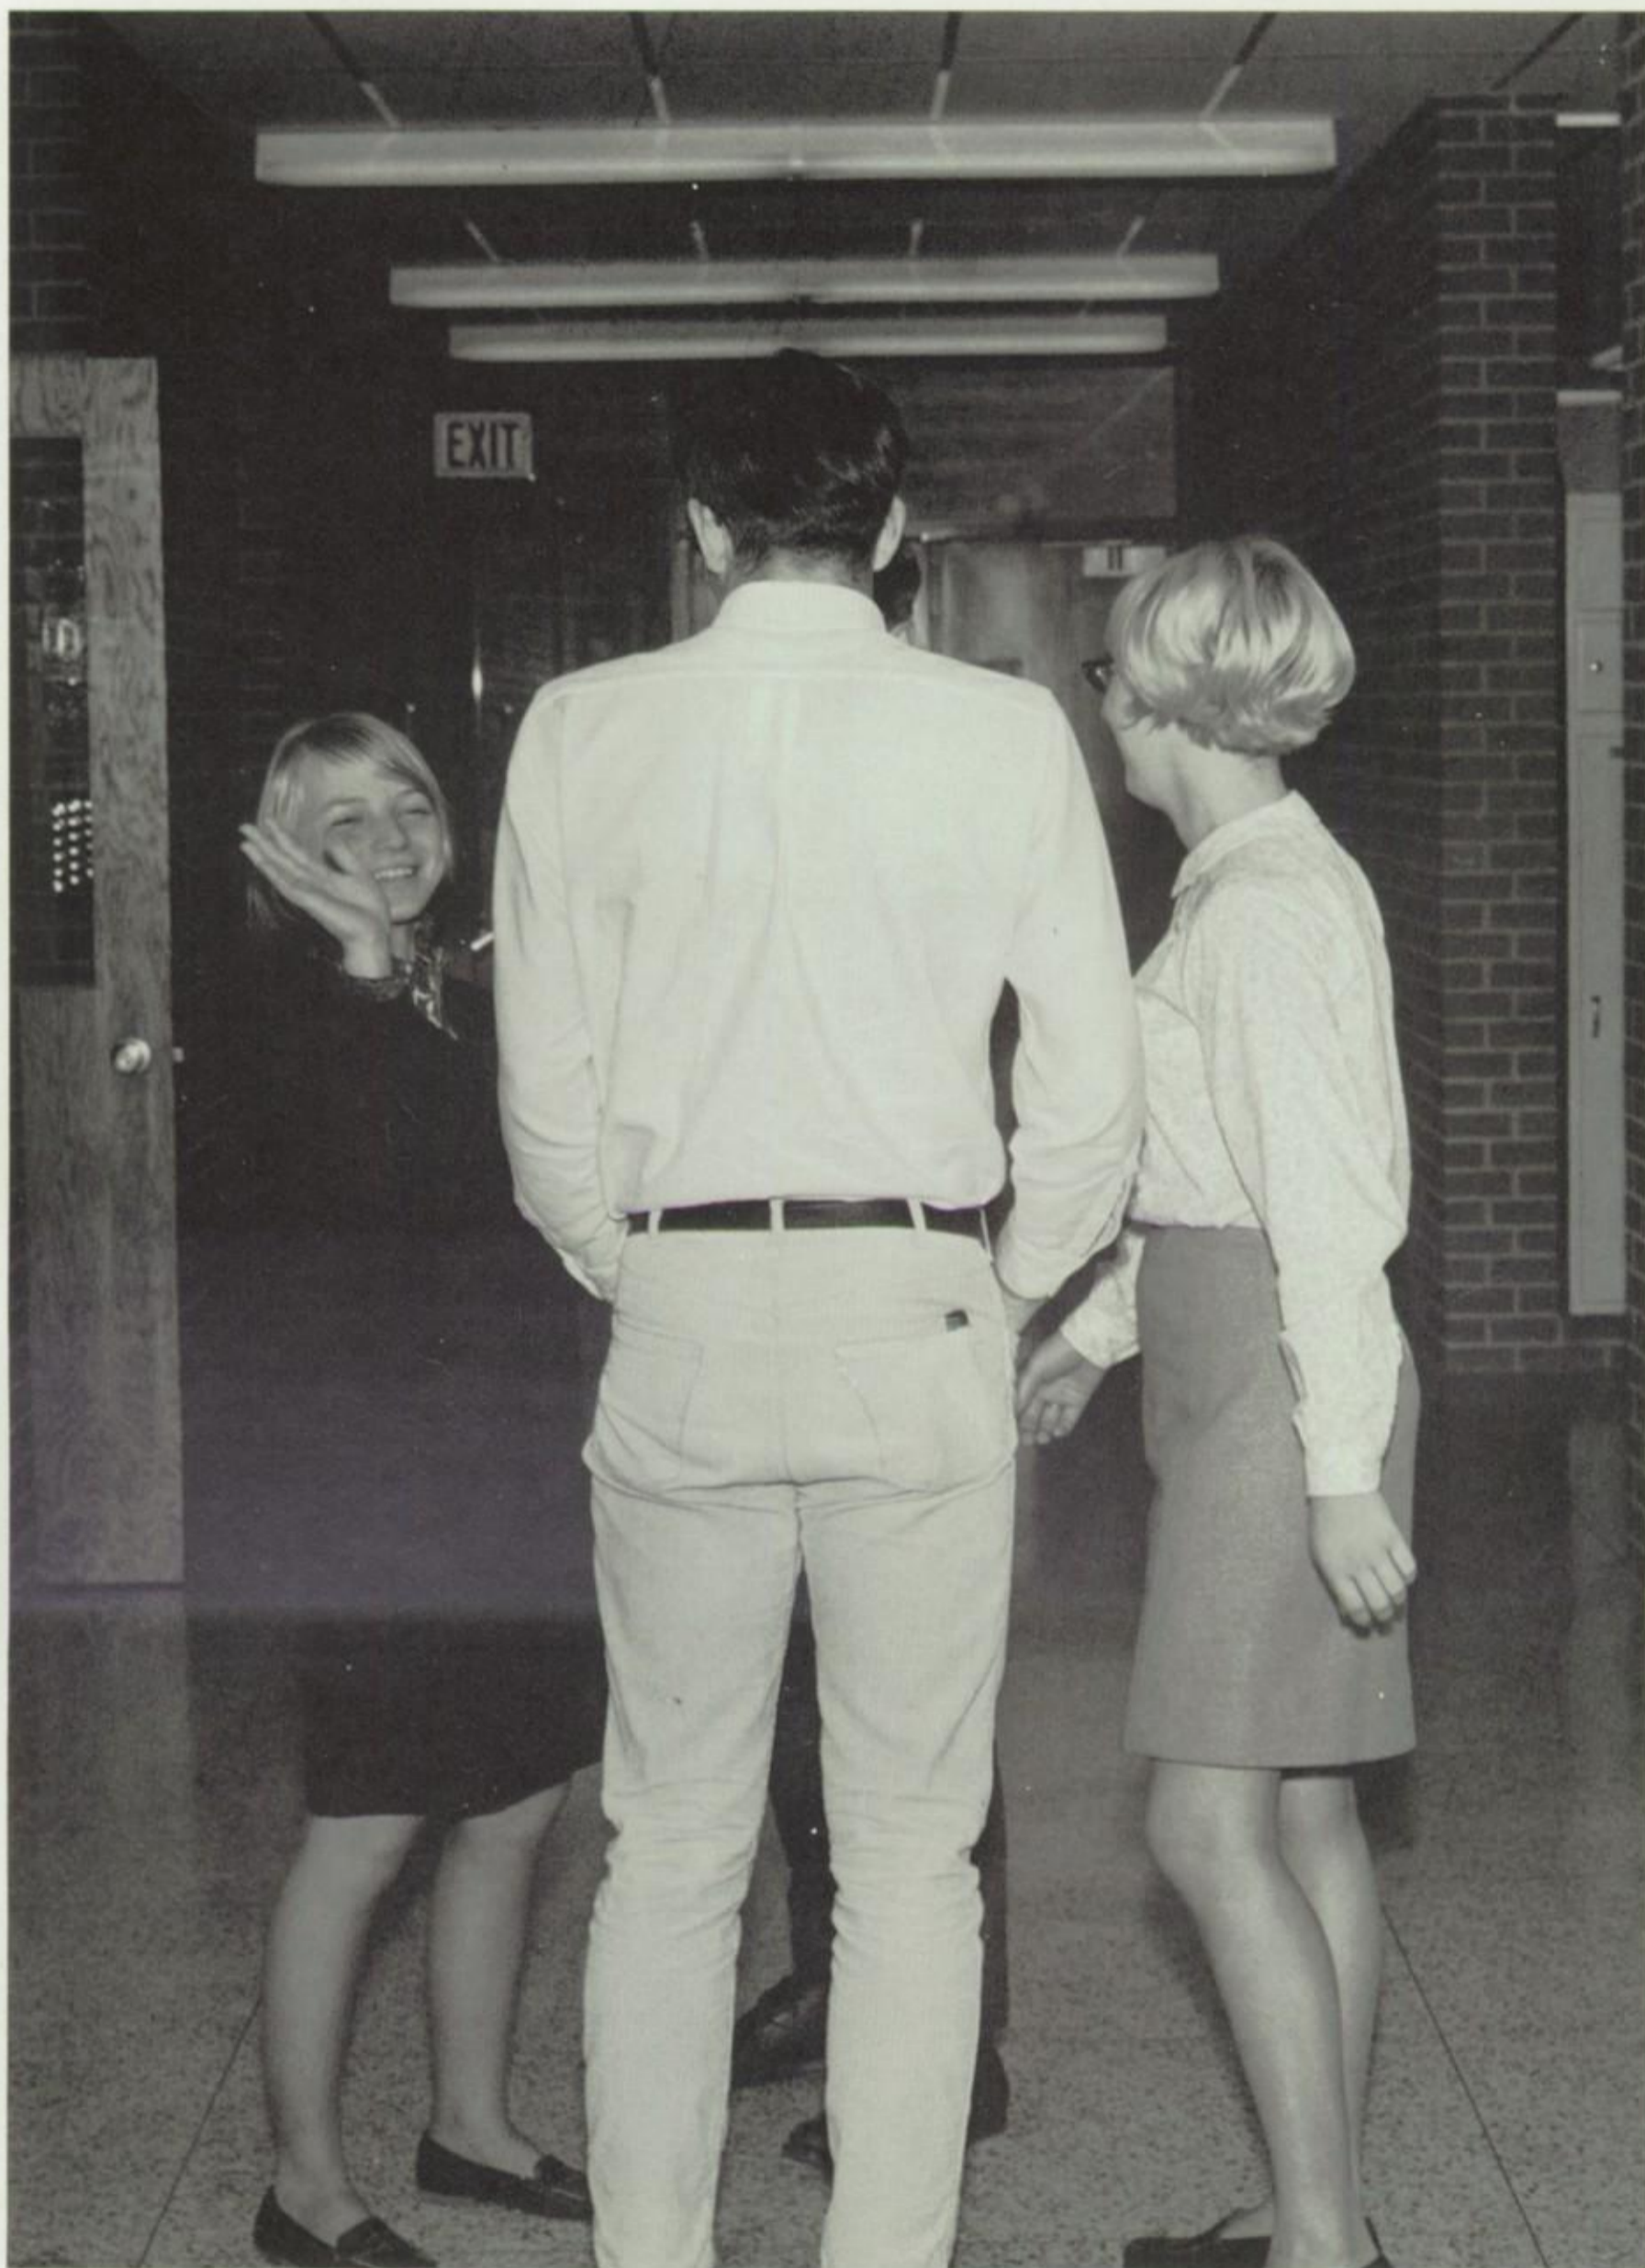

The objective of the Industrial Arts program is to develop manipulative skills that are basic to the industrial world in which we live. This may include: mechanical drawing, wood and welding--metals--electricity.

Driver Education is designed to give training in proper driving habits, with emphasis on the great importance of traffic safety.

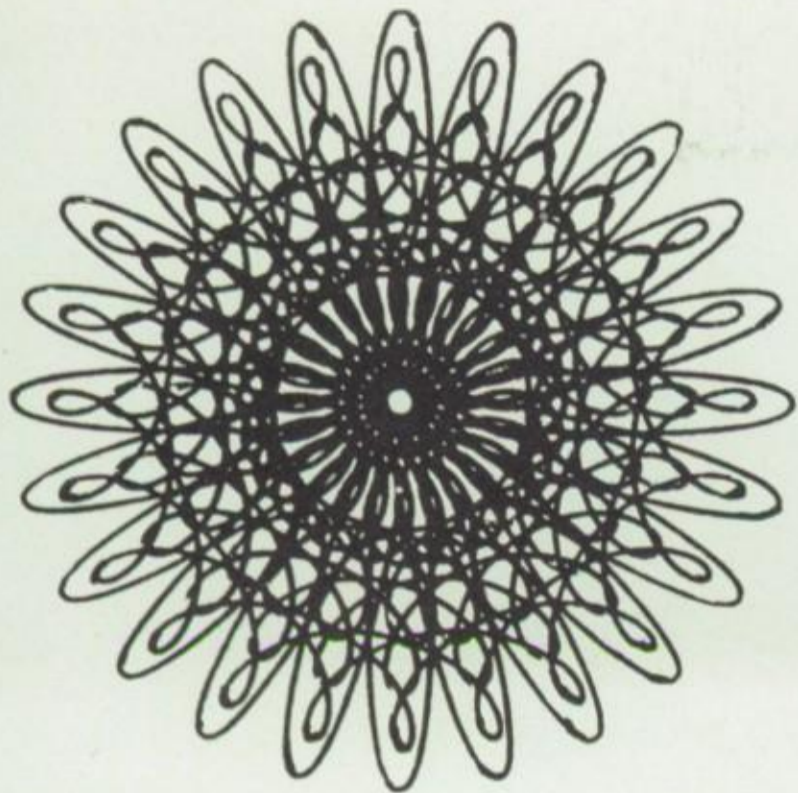

Vocational Agriculture is designed for boys who expect to become engaged in farming or other agricultural occupations. Boys manage and keep accurate record on a livestock and a crop project of their own. Class study is concerned with problems of livestock and crop production.

In the spring the drivers' education class sponsored a driving safety assembly. An experiment involving Deb Myers and Stan Kaufman showed how to stop in an assured clear distance.

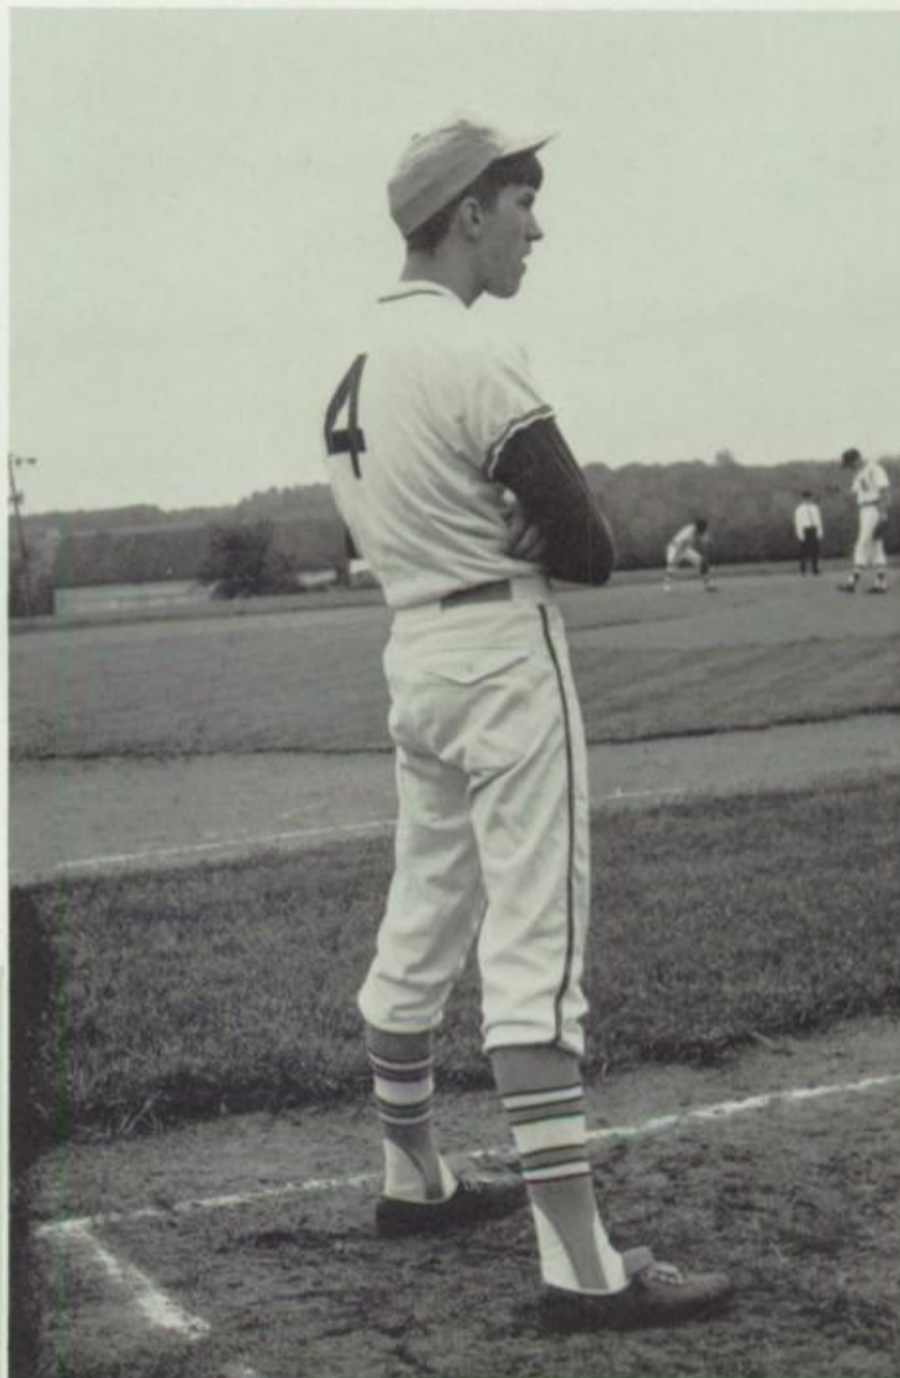

Mary Ellen Maxwell, Roger McBride, and Barb Carl stop in the hallway between classes to have a friendly chat.

Mary Mutchler seemed to be surprised while she and Kathy Easterday worked on THE ECHO.

Money for the Prom

The sophomores who by now are well established at Hillsdale High set out to make this year a good one. Their first activity of the school year was sponsoring a chili supper November 3, 1967 following the Black River-Hillsdale football game. For a little fun the class met at the Ashland YMCA for a class party. The sophomores also served a banquet for the Federal Land Bank Association. They earned most of their money from this project for their prom next year. The highlight of their year was receiving their class rings from Josten Jewelers in May.

Bill Ott and Nancy Acker are purchasing apples from the newly installed fruit machine.

The student council is made up of two representatives from each class and one representative from each organization. Its purpose is to promote school spirit and to provide a means of student government. This year's officers were Steve Schwan, president; Rick Loudon, vice-president; Georganne Carl, treasurer; and Barb Carl, secretary.

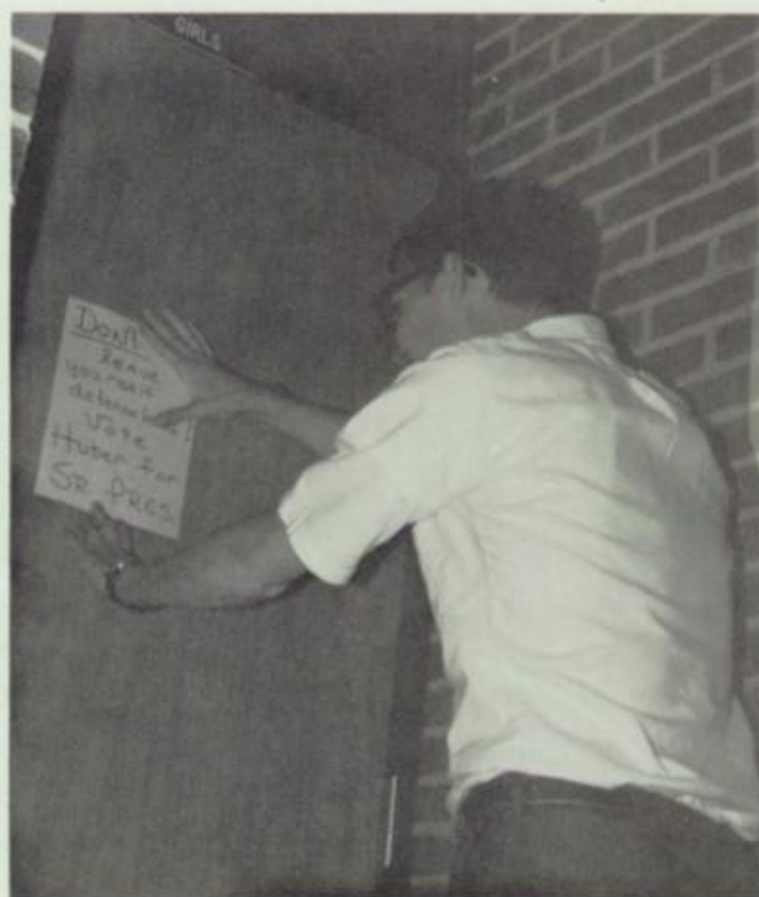

The student council sponsored dances after football and basketball games. The main social events it sponsored were the homecoming dance held October 6th and the Christmas dance held December 27.

The student council was responsible for having an apple machine placed in the school. They found that most students were in favor of having one by preparing a questionnaire. The results of the questionnaire also proved students wanted a pep club, so one was formed. The organization of class officer elections was the last official duty of the student council for the year.

for Student Activities

Student council members Susie Ailer, Mary Mutchler, and Mike Momchilov handed out the ballots which students were to mark and cast for their class officers.

Steve Huber takes pride in the sign he just posted for president of the class of 1969. The election results showed that Steve did win the presidency.

Deb Carl posts her campaign sign with the rest of the candidates' signs. Deb won her spot as senior class secretary.

Mike Stimmell reads the campaign posters, debating upon which of the capable leaders he wanted to represent him.

The Hillsdale Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America was a very active organization this year. Starting the year, on October 18, 1967, the FHA county rally was held at Hillsdale. The Hillsdale FHA chapter was the hostess for approximately three-hundred other FHA'ers.

Two of the eight purposes of the FHA are "to foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life" and "to promote international good will. Working to achieve these purposes some of the members made ditty bags to send to the soldiers in Viet Nam and others made "braille" flags for the blind.

April 10, 1968, Hillsdale presented its FHA Style Show. Girls in the Home Economics Department, under the supervision of Mrs. Zody, modeled the garments they had made as class projects.

The 1968 State FHA convention was held in Columbus, Ohio, on April 26 and 27.

The meeting was for all the representatives of FHA organizations from all over the state. Hillsdale had fifteen FHA members represented.

The goals of this year's convention were (1) to emphasize the importance of family unity, and (2) to become acquainted with and share ideas among the many Ohio FHA'ers.

Highlighting the two day convention was the presentation of the FHA degrees and scholarship awards.

The FHA officers this year were: President Joleen Briggs, Vice-President Sandy Starr, Secretary Mary Jones, Treasurer Paulette Helbert, News Reporter Beverly Walton, Historian Beverly Briggs, Assistant Marcella Kosse, Recreation Leader Melinda Roman, Assistant Sandy Ott, Parliamentarian Barb Harris, Student Council Representative Diane Harris, and Song Leader Carolyn Walton.

Hard Work Pays Off

ABOVE, It was the job of business manager Becky Helbert and her assistant Dianne Boyd to record all financial business of the "ECHO".

Copy writers Dianne Netherer, Sandy Meng, Barb Banks, Carol Atterholt, and absent copy editor Susie Ailer, worked especially hard to write appropriate copy for the yearbook.

The 1967-68 "ECHO" staff consisted of twenty-five members. The editor, Mary Mutchler, first planned her number of pages, the theme, and what was to be contained in the book. The staff first met in September to plan the advertising campaign. They solicited local merchants for ads to be posted in the yearbook. This money was used to publish the yearbook. Two subscription campaigns were held in the fall and spring. Over two hundred books were sold in these campaigns. The 1967 "ECHO" was judged by the National School Yearbook Association and graded an "A" rating in our class.

AT LEFT, The fall and spring subscription campaigns were led by Barb Wise, Georganne Carl, Deb Myers, manager Barb Carl, and Carolyn Moody.

for "Echo" Staff

ABOVE, Recording the scores and happenings of the various sports' seasons were sports writers Steve Huber, Dixie Fulk, and Judy Yonkovski.

AT RIGHT, Deb Carl, Patti McGuire, Mary Ellen Maxwell, and Kathy Easterday served as this year's advertising staff.

The school newspaper, The HIGHLIGHT, was printed twice each month to keep the students well informed of all activities and happenings about the school. The staff, made up of Hillsdale High School students interested in journalism, worked extremely hard to collect data, write stories, type manuscripts, duplicate copies, and distribute the finished products to students. Editor Brenda Funk is typing up a new edition of The HIGHLIGHT, while adviser Mrs. Mildred Garling, and junior editor Georganne Carl proofreads some final copy.

Each year at the awards assembly Mr. Haxton, advisor, gives certain awards to certain Thespian members. He presented awards to Peggy Rose, Susie Ailer--acting; Barb Wise, Doris Snyder--organizations; Barb Carl--properties. Also, not pictured Mary Mutchler and Mary Ellen Maxwell received awards for best Thespians.

Sponsoring the 67-68 school plays, "Time Out For Ginger" and "The Curious Savage" was Thespian Troup 1647 of Hillsdale High School. The purpose of the troupe is to better the school, the community, and the individual through an association with drama. The advisor of the organization is Mr. Robert Haxton, and the officers were Mary Mutchler, president; Susie Ailer, vice-president; Mary Ellen Maxwell, secretary; Barb Wise, secretary; Georgeanne Carl, S.C. representative; Karen Shaver, historian.

On January 27, 1968, twenty-eight of the Thespians went to Kent State University for a drama clinic. The play, "The Royal Hunt of the Sun" was presented by college drama students and other drama techniques were shown.

The troupe presented the Easter assembly, April 11, 1968. It was highlighted by slides of the Holy Land by Dr. Virgil Meyer, Ashland College Seminar Director.

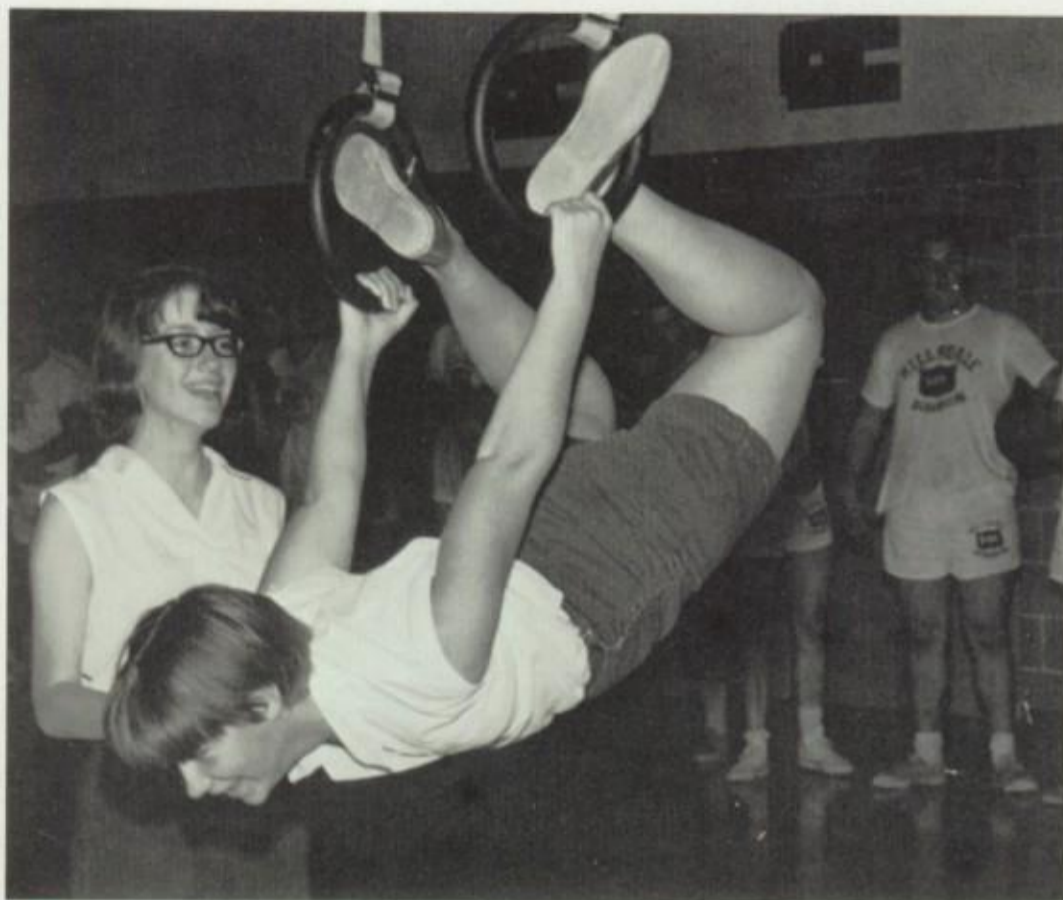

A banquet for the initiation of new members was held on April 23. Initiation consisted of skits and readings of the Thespian codes.

Most Active Members

Because these senior girls participated in enough sports to earn five-hundred GAA points they received a letter at the awards assembly. In this manner they received recognition for their sport activities.

When one hundred points are secured the voting privilege and the certificate of enrollment is granted, two-hundred points concedes the GAA pin.

One of the most active organizations at Hillsdale is the Girl's Athletic Association. Nearly every high school girl is a member and participates in at least one of the many activities of the group. Inter-class competition is held in softball, basketball, volleyball, and track each year. This year gymnastics became still another facet in the girls' physical education classes. Leading the girls in these sports were president Susie Ailer, vice-president Norma Gongwer, secretary Carol Atterholt, treasurer Dixie Fulk, and student council representative Mary Mutchler.

Varsity-H—Athletics' Best

To have the honor of belonging to the Varsity-H club, each boy must have earned one letter in one athletic activity. Only those boys who are members of Varsity-H may proudly wear the Hillsdale athletic jacket. Each year the Varsity-H sponsors the athletic banquet to honor all boys that have taken part in any sports activities. The officers for the club this year are: President Ross Justice, Vice-President Roger McBride, Secretary-Treasurer Larry Strang, and Student Council Representative Steve Schwan.

FTA Becomes Active Chapter

Senior FTA member Sandy Meng leads a second grade reading class during teaching career day.

Hillsdale's Future Teachers of America Organization completed its first school year. Two night meetings were held during the year along with a meeting every six weeks. Hillsdale's student teachers discussed their college lives with the members at the first night meeting. The purpose of the second was an initiation for eleven new members.

Most of the organization's activities were centered around teaching career month held in April. On April 2, 1958, an FTA assembly was presented to the student body. The program included a guest speaker, Mr. Jack Widner, and a movie titled "Skippy and the Three R's." The highlight of the year was teaching career day. On this day, April 30, 1968, each member was allowed to teach the vocation of his choice. The month was concluded by a party for FFA members and their guests on April 30.

The main purpose of the Library Service Club is "to have the right book at the right time for the right person."

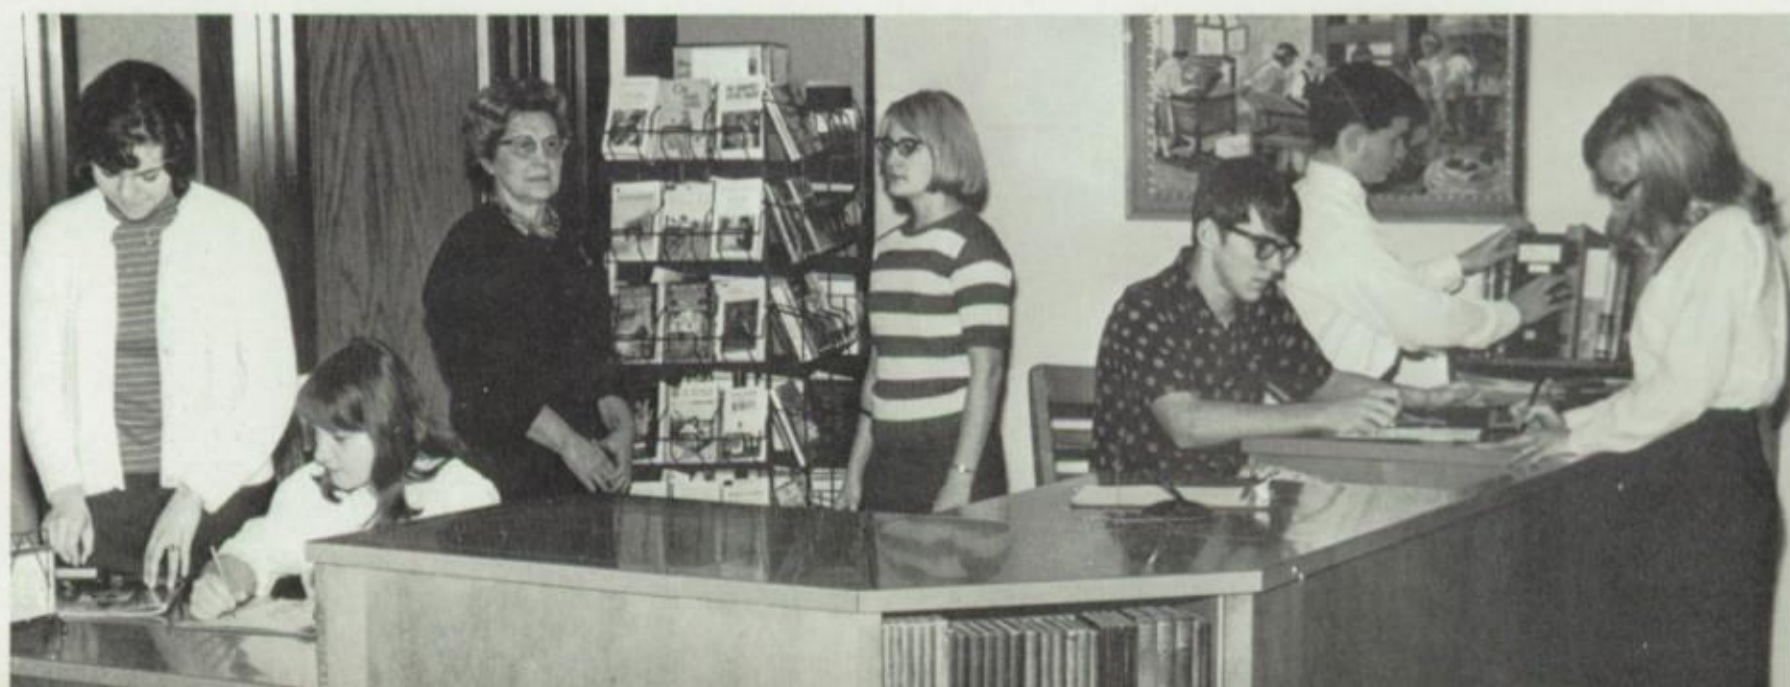

The main event of the year for the club was attending the N.C.O.T.A. student workshop at Clearfork High School on October 7, 1967. Mrs. Janet Henry, a noted poet and lecturer, was the guest speaker. On April 18, 1968, the club, along with the art department, attended the Cleveland Art Museum. The library club ALSO was responsible for presenting the CHRISTMAS assembly. This included the play, "A Certain Star" and several musical presentations.

The National Honor Society was led this year by president Richard Hange, V-P Mary Mutchler, secretary Carol Atterholt, treasurer Dixie Fulk, and student council representative Susie Ailer. The advisors were Mrs. Helen Petty and Mr. Eugene Anderson. On March 8, 1968 the society sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Dance which included a shot-gun wedding, talent contest, and the awarding of prizes. The annual induction of new members was held on February 28, 1968. Members of the club performed the induction ceremonies and planned the program. On May 17, 1968, Hillsdale presented a scholarship honor awards reception in honor of those students who maintained an average of 3.25 throughout the year. There were fifty-nine students honored.

Usherettes Initiated at Hillsdale

A newly organized body added to Hillsdale was the usherettes. They were formed to act as guides for all assemblies and group meetings at Hillsdale. They were individually asked to be an usherette by the administration and were advised by Mrs. Margaret Zody. The usherettes sold various pieces of jewelry to earn enough money to buy their golden colored blazers.

Students Develop Musical Skills

Throughout the year Mr. House was aided by Diane Boyd and Joyce Grindstaff. These girls provided the piano accompaniment for all the choir rehearsals and concerts.

In order to become an outstanding choir many hours of practice were needed. These students stopped in order to get specific instructions about how to improve their rhythm.

Karen Shaver, Kathy Easterday, Brenda Funk, Becky Helbert, Carol Atterholt, Marcia Dennis, Linda Anderson, and Carolyn Moody were all part of an ensemble which performed at various concerts and assemblies.

On March 23, at Mansfield Senior High School, it earned a I, or superior rating in the District VII Band and Chorus competition, which entitled the choir to compete for state honors. It did so and received a II or excellent rating there.

The entire mixed chorus performed at several concerts throughout the school year. The Christmas concert on December 20th was highlighted by dress costumes, beautiful settings and lighting techniques. The spring concert, too, was gay and lively with such songs being performed as "What Now My Love," "The Sweetheart Tree," and "Spring Is Here." Rounding out the year was the annual performance at commencement exercises on June 2nd.

The Hillsdale High School Band was kept busy throughout the school year with various activities lead by the band officers: Bob Obrecht, president; Dale Jones, vice-president; Carol Harned, secretary; and Marlyn Cox, student council representative; and Mr. James Saker, the new band director. They initiated a band camp during the summer vacation and learned forms of drill, routines, and what the expression, "feet and blow" really meant. The band used these routines for the halftime shows at the football games, various parades, and a performance at Cedar Point. At the basketball games the pep band played pop tunes and march music during the halftimes.

The concert band held its first concert at Christmas time. March saw major events: a concert on March third and the district contest on March twenty-third. At the district contest the band received a I or superior rating and gained the right to participate in the state contest, but did not desire to do so. The band ended its school year with a spring concert in May and participated in Memorial Day services in Hayesville and Jeromesville.

Mr. James Saker, band director, accepted his first teaching position at Hillsdale. Above, he is instructing students during a practice session before the spring concert.

Students to Study State Government

Boys' State: BACK, Alternate Tom Fulk, Delegates Steve Huber and Randy Lipscomb, Alternate Edwin Zody. FRONT, Alternates Roger Dennis and Randy Stitzlein.

Buckeye Girls' State is an annual event held at Capitol University, Columbus, during the last week in June. During this week, girls from all over Ohio participate in a simulated State government.

The six girls were chosen by the Hillsdale faculty on the basis of leadership, sportsmanship, courage for service, self-reliance, personality, and the ability to compete. The six girls were then interviewed by a committee from the Jeromesville Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary from where the girls are sponsored. This committee makes the final decision.

Boy Staters will spend a week at Ohio University, Athens, in June. The boys are chosen in the same manner in which the girls were chosen.

In the fall the delegates will present a school assembly relating their experiences to the students and faculty at Hillsdale.

Mr. Haxton, director of "Time Out for Ginger," did extra work to insure good performances of the cast. Here he is studying their acting.

The fall play, "Time Out for Ginger," was presented on November 11, 1967.

The play revolved around a young girl, Ginger, who wanted to play football. Her father, Howard Carol, gave a speech at an assembly and stated, "Perhaps the reason that young men do not conform to the rules of etiquette is that they see girls playing volleyball and basketball, thus losing sight of their femininity." Things really clash when Ginger signs up for the football team and receives national coverage.

New Strategy

Hillsdale's football team ended the season with two wins, four losses, and three ties. The Falcons were under a new coach, Mr. John Caldwell. Coach Caldwell had this to say about the season and the boys, "It was an interesting first year. There were fine performances by the seniors and I hope there's a carry over to next year's seniors. Considering the installation of a new season and a new coach, the boys adjusted rather well."

Coach Caldwell was assisted by coaches, Edwards, McKinley, and Nelson.

The team members elected as tri-captains were Jack Bevington, Randy Loudon, and Roger McBride. Roger was also named all-area end.

In the Hillsdale-Monroeville game, Rick Louden 41 clears the way for Greg McFarlin's pass.

Hillsdale's wrestlers warmed up before a match. Their opponents were the Smithies of Smithville. Smithville was the victor, winning with 30 points, while Hillsdale chalked up only 11 points.

Hillsdale's wrestling team had a record of six wins and five losses to end their third year of participation in this sport.

Every practice day consisted of calisthenics, weight lifting, running, and wrestling. Each boy had to meet the required weight allotment in his class before he was allowed to wrestle in a meet.

Senior members of the team were: Jack Bevington, Richard Hange, Rick Loudon, Mike Momchilov, Barry Pringle, Steve Schwan, and Jim Tallmadge. Rick, Mike, and Steve were the team's tri-captains.

Tom Stake wrestled with a Smithville opponent. Tom was in the 103 pound weight class.

Reinforce in Wrestling and Cross-Country

Hillsdale's cross country team ended its first year with Steve Huber placing 16th in the Class A School's Competition, and Dale Garn placing 31st. There were 120 boys competing in this area competition trying to win the honors for their respective schools.

Cross country is a type of long-distance racing in track and field sports. The runners run for approximately two miles across fields, through woods, and over hills. Seven boys are on a team, but only five can place. The team with the least amount of timed score wins.

This sport is helpful to the boys as a conditioning activity because it develops endurance.

FOOTBALL CHEERLEADERS: Carol Atterholt, Dixie Fulk, Captain Mary Ellen Maxwell, Melinda Roman, Deb Carl, Susie Young.

Six varsity football cheerleaders were chosen in the spring before the fall football season. They were chosen by a panel of faculty and student council members. Each girl trying out for a place on the cheerleading squad performed a cheer alone and also one with several other girls. She is then graded and scored for poise, neatness, and physical abilities. The scores were tallied and a list of new cheerleaders was posted. Cries, shouts, and general excitement follows.

The varsity and freshmen basketball cheerleaders were chosen in the same manner that the football cheerleaders were.

These girls were very active during the winter months, planning pep rallies, practicing every week, and cheering the Falcons to victory. They also attended a cheerleading clinic at Ohio State University to prepare themselves for the "cheerleading season."

BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS: Captain Mary Ellen Maxwell, Audrey Clark, Georgeanne Carl, Deb Carl, Melinda Roman, Carol Atterholt.
